ABOUT THIS ISSUE

Nick J. Thierry

The big news in this issue was Curtis Myden swimming a new Goodwill, Commonwealth, and Canadian record for the 200 individual medley in 2:00.38, which ranks him first in the world for 1998. The last time a Canadian was ranked first in the world was in 1986 when Alex Baumann had the fastest times in the 200 and 400 I.M. Congratulations Curtis.

The Maritime Life Nationals / Commonwealth Trials was the highlight for Canadian swimmers and 40 of them were selected to the team that will compete in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia in September. Watch for extensive coverage in our next issue.

Kelly Stefanyshyn erased the oldest Canadian women's record in her sweep of both backstroke events. The 200 record bettered by Kelly was established by all-time Canadian great Cheryl Gibson when she won the bronze at the 1978 World Championships. Gibson won a silver in the 400 I.M. at the 1976 Olympics.

For a preview of what might happen in 2000, look at the European Junior Championships on page 13. These are the very best 17-and18-year-old boys and 15-and 16-year-old girls. Many medal winners from this competition are on the podium at the Worlds or Olympics a few years later.

Coverage of the biggest, fastest meet in the world is by veteran journalist Al Schoenfield. He's written on these American championships for 40 years. I was fortunate to learn from Al many of the fine points of journalism when I worked for him during 1972-73.

The Americans chose four different teams—the 1999 Pan Pacific, Pan Am, World University Games, and a small team for FINA Short Course Worlds. These are listed on page 17.

The German doping trials continue. This time, doctors and coaches from TSC Berlin Club were fined and as the judge said, there is no way to justify a "system of state-ordered crime." Karin Helmstaedt is attending these trials, and reducing the complex legal procedures to a half page is remarkable. The swimming community owes her a big debt.

Surprise, surprise, Michelle Smith-de Bruin has been suspended for four years. She was always a ticking time-bomb. We hope this is the final act.

For something truly different you have to take in the Goodwill Games. Originally an attempt to warmup the cold-war chill, it has now become a legitimate competition with some of the very best athletes. Unlike other major Games, these recognize the athlete as the principal player, and substantial financial rewards are distributed to the successful participants. Curtis Myden made the most of three 200 IM swims.

All Canadian meets are included in TAG. Those that competed in the Far Westerns will have their times included in September (results just arrived).

STEFANYSHYN BREAKS OLDEST BACKSTROKE RECORD

40 SWIMMERS TO COMPETE AT COMMONWEALTH GAMES

Nick J. Thierry

ETOBICOKE-The 40-member Commonwealth Team selection added to the importance of these 1998 Summer Nationals. Although six swimmers were pre-selected based on their performance at the World Championships from last January, the competition for the 34 available spots was close. Highlights were the two Canadian backstroke records by Kelly Stefanyshyn, 16, Canadian Kodiak SC, the dominance by Pacific Dolphins, winning the overall team title as well as the men's and women's team titles, and 13-year-old Courtney Chuy's win in the women's 200 breaststroke.

Because the meet ended Saturday, CBC could broadcast the competition the next day across the country, giving the sport valuable exposure.

Silver for Nanaimo's Chris Sawbridge and a trip to Malaysia — Marco Chiesa

Day 1 August 5

200 Freestyle

In women's 200 freestyle, Jessica Deglau, 18, PDSA, took the lead in the final 50 metres and clocked a personal best 2:01.32. Laura Nicholls, 19, ROW, was second in 2:02.41 and Joanne Malar, 22, HWAC, third in 2:02.57.

"It's a race that I look forward to," said Deglau, better known as the Canadian record holder in the 200 butterfly. "It's an event that I hope that maybe I can bring to the same level as my butterfly. It's been developing really well over the last two years."

Nicholls took the lead for the first three lengths, with Malar moving in the lead after the 150, but Deglau finished strongest.

The splits were:

Deglau	29.15	1:00.26	1:31.00	2:01.32
Nicholls	28.32	59.16	1:30.77	2:02.41
Malar	28.69	59.33	1:30.91	2:02.57
Schwartz	29.20	1:00.50	1:32.08	2:02.63

The top three were pre-selected and Andrea Schwartz got her first toehold on a team spot.

In the men's 200 freestyle, Mark Johnston, 18, PDSA, won the Canadian title for a third straight time since last year's Summer Nationals. The race was against the clock as Johnson had a body-length lead at the 100, and moved away from the rest of the field. His winning time of 1:50.54 was an almost two-second improvement over his previous best.

100 Backstroke

In the women's 100 backstroke, Kelly Stefanyshyn, 16, CKSC, with a winning time of 1:02.57, bettered the previous record of 1:02.75 set by Julie Howard of BRANT, in August 1995. She also improved on her personal best time by over a second. Erin Gammel, Kamloops Classic, was second in 1:03.84 and Nikki Dryden, PDSA, was third in 1:03.87. Stefanyshyn was second at the 50 with 30.85. Gammel had a slight advantage, turning first with 30.79.

"I never expected to swim that fast," said Stefanyshyn, who's looking to do the same in the 200 backstroke, which is her best event. "I just wanted to not take it out too fast and save enough energy for a strong finish. That's what I'd been doing in training and the times coming into this meet were very good." She was inspired to swim watching Mark Tewksbury win the 1992 Olympics. And in 1995, at age 13, she wiped off the blocks for Julie Howard when she set the previous Canadian record in the event.

In the men's backstroke, Chris Renaud gave signs of a return to form with a fast winning time of 55.48, a personal best. At the midpoint he was third with 27.33, with Chris Sawbridge, 18, NRST, in the lead with 27.25. Sawbridge finished second with 56.20. World Championships silver medallist Mark Versfeld, 22, PDSA, was pre-selected and finished fourth.

400 Individual Medley

Joanne Malar, in her second final of the evening, came back to win the 400 individual medley in 4:46.06, her 19th career national crown. Liz Warden, 20, COBRA, took the silver in an impressive 4:48.18 and Kristy Cameron, 16, GMAC, third in 4:50.97. For Warden, it was a big improvement over her previous best from 1995 of 4:53.75. It earned her a spot on her first major games team.

Cameron has been improving with every swim. First under five minutes only last May, she did not even swim in this event a year ago.

In the men's 400 individual medley, Curtis Myden, 24, UCSC, fell just short of his national mark of 4:16.28, clocking 4:16.82. With Myden giving up on the Commonwealth Games, the race for team spots was between Owen von Richter, 23, ESWIM, and Philip Weiss, 18, IS.

The splits were:

Myden	58.08	2:04.68	3:16.93	4:16.82
Von Richter	59.27	2:06.65	3:20.85	4:22.21
Weiss	59.39	2:07.12	3:23.77	4:25.61

After missing the Olympic team, von Richter, plagued with respiratory problems throughout his career, earned a spot to Kuala Lumpur, with Weiss also joining the team.

4x50 Medley Relay

Canadian Kodiak SC (Kelly Stefanyshyn, Riley Mants, Amy Simpson, and Marylyn Chiang) won the women's relay in 1:56.54 over Calgary's UCSC, 1:56.59, which included Olympic champion Penny Heyns swimming the breaststroke leg. In third was Manta Swim Club with 1:56.82.

Calgary won the men's relay in Canadian record time of 1:41.03. The team was composed of Chris Renaud, Russell Patrick, Curtis Myden, and Etienne Caron.

Big triumph for Garret Pulle in the 100 fly — Marco Chiesa

Day 2 August 6

400 Freestyle

Joanne Malar won the women's 400 freestyle in 4:14.28. Jessica Deglau of Vancouver made a late charge in the final length but settled for second in 4:15.80 and Andrea Schwartz of Regina was third in 4:17.56.

"I always considered myself an IM swimmer," Malar said. "I started to do the freestyles recently to help with the IMs. In tonight's race I felt really in control. It went exactly the way I wanted it to." Malar moved to Calgary's National Sport Centre last spring and has been training with Jan Bidrman. She will be competing in her third Commonwealth Games.

In the men's 400 freestyle, Mark Johnston, 18, PDSA, won his second Canadian title in two days with a personal best of 3:54.89. Mike McWha, 21, OSC, was second in 3:57.93 and Brent Sallee, 21, PDSA, was third in 3:58.89.

"It took a lot of mental focus, and to win both events at Nationals, it was a big goal of mine." Johnston said. "I wasn't feeling all that great tonight."

The selection time was 3:54.14.

100 Breaststroke

It was an easy win for World bronze medallist Lauren van Oosten, 19, UCSC, leading the race from the gun (32.93 split) with a time of 1:09.92. Impressive in second was 13-year-old Courtney Chuy, HYACK, with 1:10.31, and veteran Lisa Blackburn, 26, NKB, was third with 1:11.06, a personal best.

Curtis Myden stole the men's breaststroke as the front-runners faded at the finish. Myden's winning time was 1:03.31. Andrew Chan, 19, ESWIM, who was in the lead with 15 metres left, faded to second in 1:03.89 and Jason Flint, 21, UNATT, was third with 1:03.91. Morgan Knabe, 17, EKSC, was actually third with 1:03.52, but was disqualified for a dolphin kick off the turn.

100 Butterfly

Jessica Deglau made it look easy. Only sixth at the 50 (29.47) she won with 1:01.66. Sarah Evanetz, 23, PDSA, the early leader (28.54) was second with 1:02.20. The next six finalists were under 1:03 in a very close finish.

Garret Pulle, 20, PDSA, smashed his personal best time by nearly a second with a winning time of 53.69 (25.32 split). Stephen Clarke of Brampton, 25, COBRA, the early leader (24.94 split), was second in 53.88 and Shamek Pietucha, 21, PDSA, was third in 54.12.

"I went for it," said an emotional Pulle, 20. "I felt I was really prepared both mentally and physically and I stayed relaxed. Making the Commonwealth team was a big dream of mine. Two years ago I was pretty much out of swimming but I never gave up."

4x100 Freestyle Relay

A Canadian record was set for the women as PDSA won with 3:49.21 (Marianne Limpert, Kate Brambley, Sarah Evanetz, Jessica Deglau).

COBRA (Thomas Zochowski, Robbie Taylor, Alex Shleifman, Stephen Clarke) won the men's free relay with 3:25.78.

Day 3 August 7

200 Individual Medley

It was no fluke in March when Kristy Cameron, 17, GMAC, won the 200 IM. In what was a surprise, she came from behind, as veterans Marianne Limpert, 25, PDSA, who went out hard and faltered at the finish to finish third, and Joanne Malar, 22, HWAC, couldn't hold off Cameron, finishing second.

The splits:

Cameron	29.97	1:06.09	1:44.35	2:16.13
Malar	30.02	1:05.16	1:44.33	2:16.18
Limpert	29.29	1:04.02	1:44.04	2:16.68

"I thought a lot about winning this race, although I'm still surprised," said Cameron. "I didn't sleep that much last night. It's intimidating to swim against Joanne and Marianne and I'd never been that nervous for a race. But I approached it as basically four separate sprints and went all out on every stroke."

In the men's I.M. Curtis Myden had no challengers. It was a routine win in 2:01.61, with Owen von Richter, 23, ESWIM, second in 2:03.68, and Phillip

Weiss, 18, IS, third in 2:04.82, battling for team spots.

50 Freestyle

Laura Nicholls, 19, ROW, tied the Canadian record, clocking 25.90 her fastest time since a 25.92 qualified her for the 1996 Olympics. Shannon Shakespeare, 21, MM, who holds the existing record, was second in 26.03 in her first race since March, and Nicole Davey, 19, COBRA, was third in 26.28.

"It's been a bit frustrating to wait that long to get back to that kind of time," said Nicholls. "It's important to anticipate the start which I didn't do very well in the heats."

Stephen Clarke, 25, COBRA, won his 15th career national title but his first in the men's 50 freestyle prevailing in a three-way race in 23.24. Ryan Laurin, 23, WVOSC, was second in 23.32 and Yannick Lupien, 18, GO, was third in 23.38.

200 Backstroke

Kelly Stefanyshyn, 16, CKSC, withstood a strong challenge from Vancouver's Nikki Dryden, 23, PDSA, 2:14.17 to 2:14.86, to erase the existing Canadian record. The old mark of 2:14.23, set by Cheryl Gibson of Edmonton, had lasted since August 1978. Dryden clocked a personal best time for the first time in six years for the silver and Andrea Schwartz, 21, UCSC, was third in 2:18.30.

The splits were:

Stefanyshyn	31.77	1:05.39	1:39.40	2:14.17
Dryden	32.06	1:06.62	1:40.75	2:14.86
The old record splits
Gibson	31.18	1:05.27	1:39.65	2:14.23

"It's just a great record. I don't think my parents were even married back in 1978," said Stefanyshyn, who bettered the 100 backstroke Canadian record earlier in the meet. "I'd been thinking about it since May when I came close at the Canada Cup meet. I'm hopeful that I can break the record again at the Commonwealth Games and also bring home a medal."

Chris Renaud, 21, UCSC, added the 200 backstroke gold with 2:00.69 over Greg Hamm, 22, PDSA, second in 2:00.89 and Dustin Hersee, 22, PDSA, third in 2:01.64. Pre-selected to the Commonwealth Team, Mark Versfeld, the current record holder and World Championships bronze medallist, swimming through the meet, was fourth in 2:02.32.

4x200 Freestyle Relay

Pacific Dolphins set a new club record in winning the women's free relay with a time of 8:17.92, (the old record was 8:20.27). The team was composed of Kate Brambley, Jessica Deglau, Tamee Ebert, and Marianne Limpert.

A visiting team from France won the men's relay in 7:31.53, with Calgary Swimming second in 7:33.83 and Pacific Dolphins third in 7:36.63.

Day 4 August 8

800 Freestyle

Joanne Malar, 22, HWAC, took the lead from the start and was never challanged. In the early part of the race, Lindsay Beavers, 17, STARS, was in second but she eventually was passed first by Tamee Evert, 15, PDSA, who finished second with 8:46.70 and Andrea Schwartz, 21, UCSC, third with 8:50.13. Beavers was fourth with 8:52.64. Malar's gold was her third of the four-day championships and gave her the top female performer award.

100 Freestyle

The women's 100 was an easy win for Laura Nicholls, 19, ROW, taking the lead at the start, turning first at the 50 (26.78) and coming home with 56.30, a personal best. Shakespeare, 21, MM, was second with 56.45 and Nicole Davey, 19, COBRA third 56.79, her first sub-57-second 100 free.

In the men's 100 freestyle, Stephen Clarke, 25, COBRA, fell short in his bid to become the first Canadian to go under 50 seconds. He still won the race in 50.27 for a 16th career Canadian title. Clarke made another stab for the record in a swim-off against England's Sion Brinn, but fell short again with a 50.24.

"I'm a little disappointed tonight," said Clarke. "I was out a lot slower than normal. I just made a tactical error. I'd been swimming good all week and I really focused on this event. At the Commonwealth Games I'll be forced to go under 50 if I want to challenge for a medal."

Craig Hutchison, 23, PCSC, was second in a lifetime best of 50.83. Robbie Taylor, 17, COBRA, who reached the finals after having to swim-off Garrett Pulle, 20, PDSA, finished third with 51.42, earning a spot on the Commonwealth Team. He was the only 17-year-old among the top 16 finishers.

PROFILE: KRISTY CAMERON

THE LAST ONE TO CLAP HANDS

Tyler Lewall

Two years ago Kristy Cameron was obtaining her first Provincial standard times with the Huron Hurricanes, swimming in their four-lane, 25-metre pool. She attended her first Nationals in the summer of 1997 and won the 200 IM National Championship in the spring of 1998. This August, she won her second National Championship and qualified for the Commonwealth Games in the 200 IM by beating Olympic silver medallist Marianne Limpert and Olympic finalist Joanne Malar.

Following 1998 Spring Nationals, Cameron's coaches Kendra Papple and Don Burton moved to Guelph to coach the Guelph Marlins. To continue her training, Cameron moved with her coaches to Guelph, hoping to continue her rapid progress. Going into the Commonwealth Trials, this Grade 12 student had undergone many tough changes in her life. She had changed clubs, changed her training, moved from her home, and now had to prove that her victory at Spring Nationals was not a fluke. Qualifying for the Commonwealth Games was in the back of her mind but not her priority. After swimming another best time of 2:16.03, Kristy proved that her success was not a fluke.

Prior to her move to Guelph, Kristy was swimming only 12 hours a week. Following her move she was able to increase this to 18 hours a week, swimming 5000 to 6000 metres per practice.

"My coaches tended to focus more on technique than volume," said Cameron and it is paying off. Her favourite set consists of 34 x 100. The first 12 100s are on 1:45 and every fourth 100 is at maximum effort. The second 12 100s are on 2:00 and every third is at maximum effort. The final 10 100s are on 3:00 and every second is at maximum effort. Normally the swimmers will pick one stroke, but Kristy does the first set free, the second set fly, and the final set breast.

Indvidual medley success not a fluke — Marco Chiesa

"Before my races I like to think about my race and think of the technical things I need to work on," said Cameron. "And when I am on the blocks I wait so I am the last one to clap my hands."

Following the Commonwealth Games, Cameron plans to take a little time off and focus on school before starting her first full season at Guelph, where once again she hopes to prove to everyone that she is here to stay.

200 Breaststroke

In the women's 200 breaststroke, Courtney Chuy, 13, HYACK, stunned experienced veterans Christin Petelski, 21, IS, an Olympic finallist, and Lauren van Oosten, 19, UCSC, a bronze medallist from last January's World Championships in the 100 breast, with her 2:29.18. It was six-second drop from her previous best.

The spilts were:

Chuy	34.17	1:12.67	1:50.95	2:29.18
Petelski	34.28	1:12.04	1:50.70	2:29.85
Van Oosten	33.99	1:12.33	1:51.17	2:29.93

"My times had been coming down in training but I'm really surprised," said Chuy, whose previous best was 2:35.08. "My strategy is usually to stay within a certain distance at the start of the race so I don't have to catch up too much."

Curtis Myden of Calgary won his fourth gold medal of the meet taking the men's 200 breaststroke in 2:17.50 and was named the top male swimmer of the meet. Andrew Chan, 19, ESWIM, was in the lead for most of the race, but was caught by the experienced Myden with 15 metres left in the race. Chan finished second with 2:17.95. Michel Boulianne, 20, CSQ, touched third with 2:18.16, just ahead of Jason Flint, 2:18.20. Morgan Knabe, 17, EKSC, with the fastest in-season time of 2:16.93 when he won Winter Nationals, was fifth with 2:18.44, and missed selection to the Commonwealth Team.

Jessica Deglau of Vancouver earned a third gold medal taking the 200 butterfly in 2:12.20. The 18-year-old now has 11 Canadian championships.

Shamek Pietucha, 21, PDSA, won the men's 200 butterfly in 2:00.81 leading the race from start. Philip Weiss, 18, IS was second with 2:01.33 amd Doug Wake, 21, ROD, was third with 2:02.47. All three earned a team spot.

1500 Freestyle

Four swimmers battled for the lead for the first 600 metres. Brent Sallee, 21, PDSA, gradually moved into the lead, with training-mate Tim Peterson, 19, PDSA, close behind. Sallee won with 15:36.86 to Peterson's 15:40.24 and Michael McWha, 21, OSC, was third in 15:42.24. Mark Johnston, winner of the 200 and 400 freestyles, missed out on a medal.

Peterson improved almost 20 seconds from a year ago. Sallee and Peterson have been training together daily for the past eight years.

4x100 medley relay

The fifth Canadian relay record of the meet was set by the Canadian Kodiak SC of Winnipeg in the women's 4X100 medley relay as Kelly Stefanyshyn, Riley Mants, Amy Simpson, and Marylyn Chiang clocked 4:12.93. The previous standard of 4:13.40 was established by Etobicoke Swimming in 1988.

Calgary Swimming won the men's relay with 3:45.86, beating out the A and the B team from Pacific Dolphins.

Precocious breaststroker Courtney Chuy Marco Chiesa

PROFILE: COURTENAY CHUY

SUDDENLY ONE OF THE WORLD'S BEST

Tyler Lewall

In the past year Courtenay Chuy has gone from obtaining her first national qualifying standard to becoming a National Champion in the 200 breaststroke and earning a spot on the Canadian Commonwealth Games Team. This 13-year-old has only been swimming year-round for three years and has brought great hope to the future of Canadian swimming. Moving up to the senior group of the Hyack Swim Club under Head Coach Lance Cansdale this past season has helped Chuy make the transition from being a successful age-group swimmer to a force on the national swimming scene.

Going into Commonwealth Trials in August, Chuy was hoping to improve on her best times, qualify for some second swims, and try to be competitive with Canada's best breaststrokers. Her coach had told her over the course of the season that 2:29 for her 200 breast was obtainable, but Chuy did not think she could realistically take six seconds off her best time. She touched the wall in 2:29.18 and saw her name in first place in front of ex-National champions and Olympic finalists, and suddenly she was one of the world's best.

In order to make this transition, Chuy has been training 20 to 25 hours a week, swimming 4000 to 7000 metres per practice. She enjoys doing sets at near-race pace. One of her favourite sets is 8 x 100 breast on 8:00 at maximum effort. Another set that has helped her gauge her level of training is a maximum effort set where she swims 1 x 400, 2 x 200, and then 4 x 100 breast. Her favourite part of swimming, though, is when she gets to the meets.

"I like to stay relaxed and calm before my races," says Chuy.

After this season, Chuy hopes to start gearing towards other major competitions.

"I expect to keep improving," says Chuy. "Maybe not by six seconds anymore. But I don't think I'm peaking too fast."

KRAYZELBURG BETTERS ONLY AMERICAN RECORD

Something for everyone but huge entry and the heat affect competitor's performance

Al Schoenfield

CLOVIS,Calif.—It was a sizzler, the temperature that is. More than 1500 swimmers returned for the third visit to Clovis for the U.S. National Championships. The large number was perhaps influenced by the opportunity to earn a berth on one of the four teams that will represent the United States in international competition, namely the 1999 Pan Pacific Championships, 1999 Pan American Games, 1999 World University Games (FISU), and 1999 Short Course World Championships. Adding to the huge entry was the competing in three finals, A, B, and C. There was just about something for everyone.

There were high hopes that the competitions would equal the six world-record tally of the 1983 Championship or the two world records at the 1987 Championships. The competition pool at the Clovis Olympic Swim Complex is fast. But the heat during the five day meet ranged from 38 C (101 F) to a high of 42 C (107 F) on August 14. The huge entry and the heat had to affect the competitors' performances. The rest area was like an outdoor sauna.

Day 1, August 11

Sixteen-year-old Diana Munz, Lake Erie Silver Dolphins, upset Brooke Bennett, 18, 1996 Olympic gold medallist and 1998 World champion in the 800 freestyle. Munz trailed Bennett for 400 but broke away at 500 and won in 8:31.74. Bennett, Blue Wave Swimming, was second in 8:35.81 and Melissa Deary,15, Bolles School, was third in 8:39.21.

"This is amazing," Munz said. "This is the first time we were both really ready and I'm excited to win. Brooke is the world and Olympic champion. I remember when she beat my idol, Janet Evans. Brooke is the number one swimmer right now but I'm coming up." Bennett obviously had not been training hard for this meet as she was well off her World Championship time of 8:28.71.

Chris Thompson, 18, Club Wolverine, was the only swimmer to break eight minutes in the men's 800 freestyle. Thompson, winner of the 400 and 1500 free in the spring nationals, clocked 7:58.26, a time that is the second fastest in the world this year. Nat Lewis, 20, Lake Erie Silver Club, was second in 8:01.42, bettering his best time of 8:17.77 by more than 13 seconds. Austin Ramirez, 20, Elmbrook Swim, was third in 8:04.17. Tom Dolan, 22, Club Wolverine, finished 15th in 8:15.5 after an asthma attack. Dolan led at the halfway point. Perhaps the haze and the high temperature triggered the asthma attack. Twenty one swimmers failed to make the LC qualifying time of 8:22.69. Thompson trailed Dolan for 300 but then Dolan suffered the asthma attack.

"I knew Tom would push the pace, so it was a good feeling to be able to stay up with someone of that calibre," Thompson said.

Day 2, August 13

Five-time Olympic gold medallist Jenny Thompson, 25, Stanford Swimming, won the 100 free in 55.53, not as fast as her 54.95 1998 World Championship time last January. Thompson, who competed at the Goodwill Games said, "I extended my taper for the Goodwill Games. I will rest after this championships, and go back to train with Stanford's Richard Quick." After the race Thompson said, "I'm about to puke. It's just the lactic acid build up, that's an easy one to diagnose. After the 2000 Olympic Games, I plan to enter medical school."

Ashley Tappin, 23, Hillenbrand, after retiring for one year and coming back this year to win four titles at the 1998 Spring Nationals, placed second in 56.08. Liesl Kolbisen, 21, Hillenbrand, was third in 56.25.

In the men's 100 freestyle, Jason Lezak, 22, Irvine Nova, was the sole competitor to break 50 seconds in the final as he was clocked in 49.93. Trailing were Neil Walker, 22, Texas Aquatics, 50.06, and J. J. Marus, 22, Little Rock Dolfins, 50.30.

Kristy Kowal, 19, Athens Bulldog, 1998 World Champion in 100 breaststroke, won the 200 breaststroke, clocking 2:26.27, the second-fastest time in 1998. Runners-up were Jenna Street, 16, Bolles Sharks, 2:26.65 and Annemieke McReynolds, 20, Scenic City, 2:29.07. Prior to the race, Kowal said, "I am going back to Georgia and work on my swimming, after a week or two break. I'll point toward the 2000 Olympic Games." Amanda Beard, 16, Irvine Nova, 1996 Olympic silver medal winner in 100 breaststroke, placed sixth. Anita Nall, 20, North Baltimore, former world record holder in this event who won three medals in the 1992 Barcelona Olympic Games, had left the sport in 1996 after failing to make the 1996 Olympic Team. Suffering from an upset stomach and shaky from dehydration caused by the high temperatures, Nall returned after four months of training for these championships and swam in the B Final.

Tom Wilkens, 22, Santa Clara, won the 200 breaststroke, 2:12.39, the fastest time in the world this year. This spring, Wilkens won the NCAA gold in 200 breast and the 200 and 400 IMs. Teammate Kurt Grote, 25, clocked 2:12.66 for the silver, and Steven West, 26, Irvine Nova,2:15.30 for the bronze. Dr. Ron Karnaugh, 32, the oldest competitor in the meet, placed fifth in 2:16.13. In the 1998 Goodwill Games, Karnaugh won the silver medal in the 200 IM.

Natalie Coughlin, 15, Terrapins, won the 200 backstroke in 2:12.03, fourth fastest in the world. Trailing were Lia Oberstar, 21, Ft. Wayne Aquatic, 2:13.09 and Lea Loveless Maurer, 27, Badger Swim Club, 2:13.14. Maurer had retired twice, once after graduating from Stanford in 1994 and again after failing to make the 1996 Olympic team. In January Maurer won the 1998 World Championships in the 100 backstroke and broke her five-year old American record in the prelims of the '98 World Championships. Monday, after the national championships, she returns to her job as English teacher at Lake Forest High School, Illinois. This year Maurer will have to decide on an Olympic run (2000).

"I don't know if it's feasible. I think life will dictate to me whether it's humanly possible....teaching and training and whether I enjoy it. If I start compromising my performance in any of the three areas, I'll walk away. But for now it's working."

Expectations ran high in the men's 200 backstroke for Lenny Krayzelburg to break the world mark. Krayzelburg, 20, gold medallist in the 1998 World Championships in the 100 and 200 backstroke said before the race, "I tapered 12 days for the Goodwill Games. I have been to the pool, it's a good pool. I plan to swim fast. If the world record comes, okay. After this meet I'll take a month off, the last time before the 2000 Olympic Games. I train with Mark Schubert at the University of Southern California, and will graduate in December '98 with a degree in finance."

Krayzelburg never trailed his teammate, Brad Bridgewater, the fastest qualifier, and finished in the time of 1:57.38, an American record and the fastest in the world this year. Bridgewater clocked 1:59.58. Aaron Piersol, 15, Irvine Nova, returned 2:01.39 for the bronze medal. After the race, Krayzelburg said, "I felt it was going to take an American record to win tonight." He was ahead of the world record pace for the first 150 metres. "I need to work on my last 50."

Misty Hyman, 19, Arizona Desert Fox, no longer able to use the unique underwater kick except for the first 10 metres, was the fastest qualifier in the 200 butterfly. In the finals she was upset by Molly Freedman, 17, Curl-Burke, losing by a fingernail. Freedman timed in 2:12.02 and Hyman, 2:12.05. Newcomer Kaylyn Keller, 13, Phoenix Swim Club, clocked 2:12.76 for third.

Tom Malchow, 21, Club Wolverine, silver medallist in the event at the 1998 World Championships, retained his 1997 National crown, clocking 1:56.75. Runners-up were Ugur Taner, Hillenbrand, 1:57.50, and Steven Brown, Reno Aquatic Club, 1:59.93.

Day 3 August 13

Breaking the two-minute barrier in the 200 freestyle is like a jinx for American women. No swimmer has broken the two minutes with any consistency since Cynthia Woodhead clocked 1:59.49 twenty years ago on August 3, 1978, for an American record. Through September 2, 1979, Woodhead lowered the record three times to 1:58.23. Nicole Haislett in 1992 dropped the record to 1:57.90, where it still stands. This year Cristina Teuscher clocked 1:59.63 to win the bronze medal at the recent Goodwill Games, the fourth fastest clocking in 1998.

In the 200 free at Clovis, Lindsay Benko, 22, Trojan Swim Club, upset Olympian Teuscher by a touch in 2:00.67 to Teuscher's 2:00.72. Ellen Stonebreaker, 13, still a year out of high school, clocked 2:00.95 for third.

"I didn't know how close it was," Benko said. "I just wanted to make it in there. What she tried (Teuscher's double) was really tough to do. She's a great athlete, a great competitor, and a great person. I wanted to stay focused and swim my own race. It ended up pretty good. I'm really excited. I looked up and saw lane six and the number 1 by it and thought 'oh my gosh, I can't believe it.' I knew it was close, but I couldn't tell if I won or not (when I reached the wall)."

Ugur Taner eeked out a win in the 200 freestyle in 1:48.91 over Josh Davis, 25, Texas Aquatics, 1:49.08. Jay Schryver, 19, Loveland Swim Club, was third in 1:49.36.

Cristina Teuscher, swimming about 20 minutes after the 200 free, was again a runner-up, this time in the 400 individual medley, as Maddy Crippin, 18, Foxcatcher, was timed in 4:42.61, about a body length and a half ahead of Teuscher, 4:44.44. Shannon Cullen, 17, Redlands Swim Team, was third with 4:46.23. Crippin said after her win, "I needed to maintain the lead into freestyle. It's good to be making the turn into freestyle in the lead because Cristina is awesome in free. It's good to be making a turn into freestyle and see the rest of the field still doing breaststroke. I could see Teuscher catching up to me. In the last 25, I just tried to get my kick going and get into the wall. I could see someone else in a far lane during the backstroke, so I was trying to keep an eye out over there too. I couldn't have afforded anything less than what I did. If any one can run down anyone in the world, it's Cristina."

Ugur Taner took 200 free, second for 200 fly Marco Chiesa

Cristina Teuscher, after swimming the double, 200 free and the 400 IM, said "I was really disappointed in my 200 free. I was angry with myself. I think it was a cowardly swim. I was a little complacent. I was worrying about my next swim. I wasn't concentrating on just one race at a time. I thought I'd be okay in the 200 and you can't swim like that. I was upset at my time. I would've liked to come back better (this morning). I was hoping to have a great 200 swim and that would carry me over into the 400 IM, but I wasn't concentrating or taking care of the 200 first." On swimming the double again, "I don't know (if I'll do it again). I've enjoyed doing it in smaller meets. They're two of my favourite events." On the 400 IM being such a difficult event, "I try not to concentrate on thinking of it as the worst event ever because then it will be, but yeah it hurts."

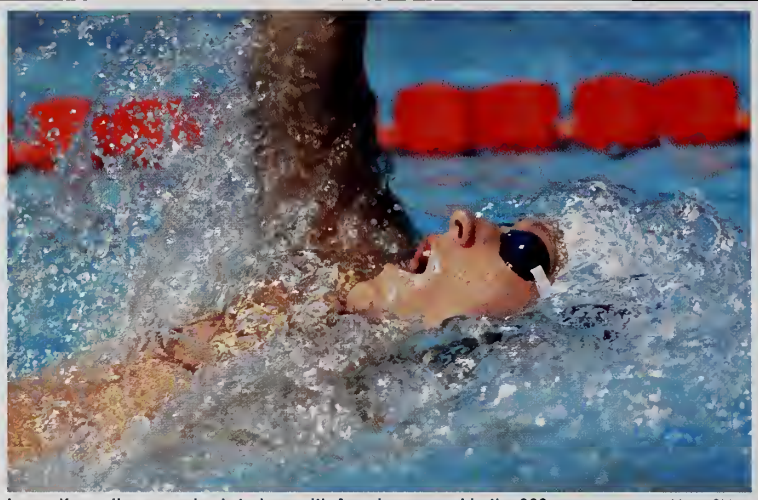
Tom Dolan had high hopes in his bid to lower his world mark for the 400 individual medley as his asthma wasn't as bad as Tuesday, when he placed 14th in the 800 freestyle. Dolan's hopes skyrocketed after he blasted out a 4:17.13 in the morning prelims.



Lenny Krayzelburg won backstrokes, with American record in the 200 Marco Chiesa

"That's one of best morning swims I've ever had," Dolan said. "I really expected to get close to the record tonight." After a false start by Erik Vendt, 17, Ocean State, that DQ'd him, the next start was clean. Dolan split 58.94 for the fly. Tom Wilkens stayed three-quarters of a body length to Dolan through the backstroke, 1:05.39, Dolan split 1:13.42 for the breaststroke leg, and came home in 58.58.

"I could tell from the beginning of the fly that it was not going to be where I wanted it to be," he said. "It's kind of frustrating to be in the middle of the race and you can't do anything about it. I knew pretty much I was just going to have to get through with whatever I had. It wasn't there" Dolan said. Tom Wilkens, 22, Santa Clara, was second with 4:18.38. Ron Karnaugh's time of 4:18.83 would have given him third place, but it was wiped out, disqualified for a faulty breaststroke turn.

The women's 4x100 freestyle relay was won by Hillenbrand (Lindsey Farelia, Liesl Kolbisen, Courtney Shealy, Ashley Tappin) in 3:44.87. Hillenbrand "B" was second in 3:49.16, and Walnut Creek was third in 3:50.96.

The men's 4x100 freestyle relay was won by Texas Aquatics (Neil Walker, Josh Davis, Brent McDonald, Bryan Jones) in 3:21.40. Santa Clara was second in 3:23.09, and Trojan Swim Club was third in 3:24.89.

Day 4 August 14

Barbara Bedford, 25, Colorado Springs Swim Club, came from behind and won the women's 100 backstroke in 1:01.11, her lifetime best, beating 1996 Olympic gold medallist Beth Botsford and 1998 World Champion Lea Maurer, who finished second in 1:01.42. Natalie Coughlin, Terrapins, was third in 1:01.77, third fastest in 1998 and equaling Maurer's World Championship time. Bedford's clocking was the second fastest in the world this year.

"I can't believe it. It's the greatest thing. I'm so excited to go my best time. I haven't done a best since the world championships in 1994, I'm an old lady." On coming from behind, "I have a theory about that in backstroke. It's the only stroke where you have the ability to put your head back and block the pain out. Goodness knows I can't do that in freestyle. I was hurting and hit the lane line, but I didn't care. I just wanted to get there."

As expected, Lenny Krayzelburg won the 100 backstroke. His time of 54.64 was second fastest in the world this year. Robert Brewer, 24, Irvine Nova, finished second in 55.26 and Brad Bridgewater was third in 55.95. It was Brewer's best time ever and fourth fastest in the world in 1998. Lenny said, "I thought I'd go faster. I guess my 200 was better at this meet than my 100. I focused on the 200 more. The 100 was a little bit tough going out. I held my stroke back a little and came back in the end. I'll still take the time. It's a pretty good time. Now I've won both backstrokes back-to-back twice (World Championships, Goodwill Games and here) and that's hard to do so, I am happy I did."

Cristina Teuscher won the 400 freestyle in 4:10.80 just touching out Melissa Deary, 15, Bolles Sharks, 4:10.88. Diana Munz, 16, Lake Erie, was third with 4:11.18, her fastest time. Teuscher, after winning two second-place finishes yesterday, said "I definitely wanted to end one of my better races on a good note. I felt good this morning. I thought I'd be hurting after yesterday. I wanted to swim my own race and worked hard. At the end my arms felt like they had lead balls. I knew Munz could crank it at the end. I was hoping to get far enough ahead and keep it going. I was worried about the end of the race. If the pool was one metre longer, I think Melissa Dearing would've caught me. Her swim was amazing. That's awesome. I love to see the young kids coming up. She didn't even seem to be out of breath at the end of the race." Deary was a member of the U.S. National Junior Team and had no world ranking in the 400 free.

Erik Vendt, 17, Ocean State, won the 400 freestyle in 3:51.23, followed by Jon Younghouse, 20, Texas, 3:52.00, and Ugur Taner, 3:53.65.

"I was seeded first going into today so I was hoping for a victory. I knew if I swam my best, I'd have a good chance," said Vendt after the race. On his DQ for a false start in the 400 IM, "I made sure I heard the beep before I left. I didn't feel sorry for myself. It just made me ready for today. I've trained for the 1500 all year. The 400 free and the 400 IM just come along with it."

Kristy Kowal won her second title, outstroking the field to win the 100 breaststroke in 1:08.71. Ashley Roby, 18, Athens Bulldogs, was second in 1.09.12 and Megan Quann, 14, Puyallup Aquatics, third in 1:09.14. Quann turned at the 50 in 32.57, faster than Amanda Beard's split when Beard set an American record. Quann faded and Kowal streaked past her.

Barbara Bedford won 50 free and 100 back

Kurt Grote, 25, won the 100 breaststroke in 1.01.60. second fastest in the world in 1998. Michael Norment, 23, Philadelphia Dept. Rec., was second in 1:01.85, and Ed Moses, 18, Curl-Burke, was third in 1:02.42.

Jenny Thompson won her 20th national title, the 16th swimmer to win 20 national titles, as she won the 100 butterfly in 59.74. Thompson was ahead of Mary T. Meagher's world record pace halfway through the race. Meagher's is swimming's oldest world record (57.93), holding up since August 16, 1981. But Thompson couldn't keep the pace and finished at 9.74. Thompson split 27.58, which was 17/100ths ahead of Meagher's world pace.

"I tightened up a bit. It was hard," said Thompson. She added, "My goal is to really come back in the final 50 with more training." Richelle Fox, 24, Badger Swim Club, was second in 1:00.04 and Ashley Tappin was third in 1:00.55.

In the men's 100 butterfly, Brock Newman, 21, Swim Atlanta, 53.24, touched out Dod Wales, 22, Santa Clara, 53.64. Sabir Muhammed, 22, Santa Clara, finished third in 53.75.

Bolles Sharks "A" won the 4x200 freestyle in 8:12.44 (Jenne Street, Ashley Whitney, Ashley Ellis, Melissa Deary). Hillenbrand was second in 8:15.76, and Trojan SC third in 8:16.32.

Texas Aquatic won the men's 4x200 free relay in 7:30.64 (Ricky Kovatch, Josh Davis, Bryan Jones, Brent McDonald). Club Wolverine was second in 7:31.45 and Mission Viejo was third in 7:34.31.

Day 5 August 15

Cristina Teuscher won her second title by winning the 200 individual medley in 2:14.18. Natalie Coughlin was second with 2:14.79 and Maggie Bowen, 18, Sunkist SC, third with 2:17.11.

"It turned out to be better tonight," said Teuscher. "I'm happy with that. I was trying not to get nervous about this race. I told myself to just relax and have fun. I'm really happy with my 400 free and 200 IM times. They were really good times for me."

Tom Wilkins clocked 2:01.80 to win the men's 200 IM. Ron Karnaugh was second with 2:02.16 and Tom Dolan third with 2:03.26.

"I trained for the 400 IM, so I knew coming home I should be as strong as anyone else. I knew Ron (Karnaugh) would be a tough competitor and Tom Dolan could do a record at any time. To get my best time on this last day of the meet is great. It was a tough swim. I pushed my backstroke hard because I wanted to get an early lead."

Diana Munz and Brooke Bennett battled neck and neck the whole way in the 1500 freestyle. Munz touched the wall first in 16:16.00, fastest time in the world this year, and Bennett touched in 16:20.61. Erica Rose, 16:33.20, was third. Munz said, "I tried to go out fast. We were even the whole race. It's one of the closest races we've (Munz and Bennett) had in the mile. I don't think I was going any faster in the last 400. Maybe Brooke dropped off some. It's hard when someone is right next to you the whole race, especially a long race like this one." Munz said. "You keep thinking, I wonder if she's going to drop off soon. Once I could get her on the turns, I didn't have to make up so much time so I felt better." Bennett said, "After the races I've had this week and this being my last race at this meet, I wanted to give it all I had. I felt better tonight so I decided to go out fast. I'm pleased I could come back tonight after my races this week. The mile is a tough race mentally to get ready for. You never know how long you can hold on. I'm glad I could stick with it. I'm happy with my time."

Kristy Kowal swept both breaststrokes — Marco Chiesa

The women's 50 freestyle was a classic. Barbara Bedford, by 3/100ths of a second, spoiled Jenny Thompson's bid for a 21st individual national title and a third title at these Championships in Clovis. Bedford, 25.64, defeated Jenny Thompson, 25.67. Tammie Spatz, 25.74, was third.

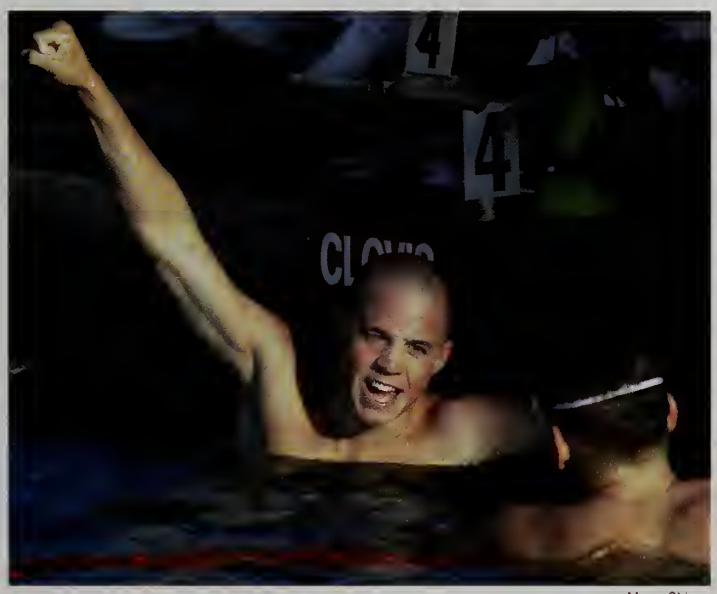
"I had a lot of caffeine before the race," Bedford said. "I had three cups of coffee, so I was about 10 levels ahead of what I usually am and that's pretty high anyway. I didn't expect to win this race at all. I've always been of the mindset that the 50 is a controlled seizure."

Erik Vendt won the 1500 freestyle. His time of 15.10.50 knocked 20 seconds off his best. Trailing were Chris Thompson, 15.14.42, and Jon Younghouse, 15:25.79. Vendt's time was the fastest time by an American since 1992.

"I'm feeling great. Having such a great time takes away the pain," Vendt said. "My coach always tells me if you pass someone to imagine someone else ahead of you. I just kept moving forward."

Bill Pilczuk, 27, Cape May Point, 1998 World Champion, won the 50 freestyle in 22.62, followed by Matt Busbee, 19, Academy Bullets, and Neil Walker, 22, Texas Aquatics, and Jason Lezak, all tied at 22.72.

"I was hoping to go faster. It was a slow race. It was cool that the race was so close. I wanted to go under 22.6. It's been an awkward season for me. It's kind of a transitional season after the World Championships. I'll spend next year getting ready for the Olympics," said Pilczuk. "I closed my eyes to feel my stroke better. It's been a little funky lately, so I was trying to concentrate on it a little."



Erik Vendt won 400 and 1500 freestyle — Marco Chiesa

Hillenbrand (Denali Knapp, Emily Mastin, Ashley Tappin, Liesl Kolbisen) won the women's 4x100 medley relay in 4:10.33, with Badger Swim second in 4:13.96 and Terrapins third in 4:16.10.

Santa Clara (Tate Blahnik, Kurt Grote, Sabir Muhammad, Dod Wales) won the men's 4x100 medley relay in 3:41.96. Hillenbrand was second in 3:43.99 and Irving Nova was third in 3:44.68.

The final team standings were: Men: Santa Clara, 361 points. Women: Hillenbrand, 351 points. Combined standings: Hillenbrand, 504.5 points.

BACKWASH

Backwash features short clips, gossip, letters and opinions. Contributions are welcome. Now for the rumours behind the news.

Swim Saskatchewan appointment: Marjorie Walton has been appointed Executive Director of Swim Saskatchewan Inc. Raised in Regina she swam with the Regina Optimist Dolphin Swim Club until 1979. Following completion of her education in business administration she worked in Alberta for five years. She has been involved in the swimming community in various capacities. With 13 years of administrative experience, her multiple skills and background will prove invaluable in her new position. Marj will commence her duties on September 14.

Overcomes Trauma: Scott Goodman, Commonwealth 200 butterfly record holder who was dramatically disqualified on the blocks in the final at the Perth World Championships, has rejoined the Australian Institute of Sport swim team after staying well clear of the sport for seven months.

Goodman, a career swimmer, was so severely traumatised when disqualified in Perth that he was unable to handle a situation in which the centre of his whole existence was shattered in a matter of less than a second. The spectators and television audience were stunned to see the 24-year-old athlete hurl a chair across the pool deck and stomp out of the pool in an obviously shattered state.

The only swimmer from Tasmania at the 1996 Olympic Games where he won the bronze medal in the 200 butterfly, Goodman has rejoined the squad under former Canadian coach, Jim Fowlie.

Not having swum in the final of the World Championships and being absent from the 1998 Commonwealth Games Trials, Scott Goodman is sorely missed from the national team in the two most important meets in preparation for the Sydney Olympics. Undoubtedly an athlete of great talent, his comeback will be watched with great interest.

Editor: I would like to express my opinion on the matter of coach vs Board of Directors. I am a 17-year-old coach for the Saskatoon Goldfins Olympic Way program. I am about to complete my NCCP Level 1 and hope to someday coach elite age group or senior swimmers. I am wondering whether coaching is actually a job I would like to pursue. The possibilty of being fired without warning hangs over every coach.

Though I am young to coaching, I have already heard of many coaches being fired for questionable reasons. I have always been quite vocal on the subject but hearing about two successful coaches being fired at the same time has provoked me to write this letter.

The firing of Clifford Barry from Etobicoke Swimming and Janusz Kaczmarek from the Saskatoon Goldfins were both surprising to me. Clifford Barry has coached hundreds of high-level swimmers and has led teams to many top five finishes and he gets fired because of one poor nationals. Janusz Kaczmarek's career with the Goldfins was short, but in two years many dedicated swimmers have improved their performances. Unfortunately, many of the Goldfin swimmers aren't very dedicated and do not understand the value of hard work, so he gets fired because they complain he's working them too hard. A few parents complain and the coach is out the door.

I believe coaches need to hear from every swimmer, young and old, and attempt to resolve any problems. The coach should work towards resolving any problems, adjusting his coaching style if needed. Dismissal should only be considered if problems and bad performances continue.

Some say a swim club is like a business with shareholders (the parents) and employees (coaches). However, you can have a swim club with only coaches, but you can't have a swim club with just a Board of Directors.

Editor: I regret that Steve Goodwin from Etobicoke Swimming took my comments regarding coaching dismissals as a personal attack against my previous employer. It was not meant to be a cheap shot against Etobicoke Swimming. After a lot of fun and a lot of international success, it was time for me to find new challenges in my life. So thank you, Etobicoke.

However, my comments still stand. How many teachers or public servants could withstand the pressures of coaching or working directly for a board of parents whose children they teach?

In coaching, having a normal family life is out of the question. Long-term benefits are non-existent and reaching international status means that you get to spend your precious holidays coaching, only to start the season all over again.

Sport today is not a pretty place. Results are what count. The ends justify the means. Developing well-balanced individuals with good values is less important than winning. It's unfortunate that swimming has become all too serious, because in the long run we are all going to lose.

Editor: I can only hope that Maritime Life executives were busy on Sunday, August 9, so they didn't have to view the CBC's coverage of the Maritime Life Summer Nationals and Commonwealth Games Trials. Maritime Life's support of swimming is commendable; CBC's disservice to swimming is deplorable.

We considered arranging for many young swimmers to gather and watch some of their team members on television. It is certainly motivational for young swimmers to watch and recognize that hard work, commitment, and time management can result in a place in the finals at Summer Nationals. We were prepared to explain to them to watch carefully because announcers never announce the full field of 8, the results are never on the screen for more than a nano-second, but you may see your teammate in a lane. We would also prepare them to hear a lot about the veterans who were swimming and little about the upcoming younger swimmers.

Fortunately we were not able to arrange for our young swimmers to gather as a team to watch, thank goodness. Who would have guessed that:

- their teammate (in three finals) would not have one of his races televised
- another swimmer from our area was the youngest winner but would not have her swim shown
- a B.C. gold medallist in two events would have neither event shown (an add-on three second insert would cover this item)
- we would watch a five minute segment (out of a total of 50 minutes) by your colour commentator on how to do the butterfly, though many top international swimmers do it very differently than he portrayed

And of course, following CBC swimming coverage tradition:

- the field of the eight finalists was never introduced (would it hurt to at least mention their names)
- the results, if shown at all, were never on long enough to identify all eight swimmers
- inane on-the-deck questions were asked of the winners
- the voiceovers, obviously done after the event, attempt to show the expertise of your commentators rather than calling the race as it happens.

It was nice to see Curtis Myden swim, but what a choice of events—CBC decides to show none of his IM's but shows his full 200 breaststroke. One of the few swimmers west of Ontario to get any mention was Kelly Stephanyshyn, but to reach that pinnacle she had to break two Canadian records. Of course, as usual, we got to see all of Stephen Clarke's swims. Valuable TV time was spent analyzing his starts and stroke (is he related to the colour commentator?).

Ever heard of Mark Johnston, currently Canada's premier middle distance swimmer? He won only two golds, but you chose not to show either of his races (or even parts of them). Is this his penalty for leaving Ontario and coming to B.C.?

By the way, Canadian swimming is dominated by B.C., Alberta, and Manitoba swim clubs, as well as B.C. and Alberta universities at the CIAU level, and nothing the CBC attempts to do will change that fact.

I would hope any future coverage of Maritime Life Nationals will:

- include a balanced showing of events, not only those featuring Ontario swimmers
- eliminate coaching tips—this is not the appropriate time for technical tips or for subtle University of Toronto recruiting
- at least recognize all eight finalists by name and show their results
- Nationals are for the present and future—please strive for a balance between those that have been and those that are. Historical vignettes are nice but should not dominate your coverage
- strive to show as many finals as possible (or at least parts of them).

Take a tip from athletics—all finalists are introduced, all results are given, technical tips are given during a race and do not take up precious time when we can see athletes competing.

I repeat, Maritime Life has done a lot for swimming. CBC in 90 minutes was an embarrassment to the swimming world and Canadian sports coverage.

GERMAN TRIALS

THE CONSPIRACY OF LIES HAS BEEN CRACKED BEYOND A DOUBT

Karin Helmstaedt

After 25 days of gruelling court procedures in the so-called "pilot" doping trial of coaches and doctors from the former Dynamo Swim Club in Berlin, the opening of the second such trial on August 18 was remarkable in many respects.

For one, all five accused, two doctors and three swimming coaches from the former TSC Club (Berlin), arrived prepared to make confessions. For another, all five spoke their piece in one day. Also noteworthy was the fact that, for the first time, the words "regret" and "apology" were uttered in the courtroom.

But most important was that a mere day later, the court made history by reaching the first-ever verdict, thereby setting an important precedent in the painful hashing out of East Germany's state-organized doping history. Charged with grievous bodily harm for having administered anabolic steroids to underage female swimmers between 1979 and 1989, Dr. Ulrich Suender, Dr. Dorit Roesler, and former coach Peter Mattonet were found guilty of 11, 9, and 7 counts respectively. Given that they were aware of the possible consequences of the anabolic steroid Oral-Turinabol, they were found to have abused the trust of the athletes and their parents. The court found that, alone, the administration of non-medically required drugs to healthy athletes for the purpose of performance enhancement constitutes grievous bodily harm, even according to the former GDR medical code. In other words, no actual irreversible physical damage needs to be found in the victims to establish guilt; artifically stimulated muscles or deepened voices and facial hair developed during their swimming careers more than suffice.

The three convicted received fines of between 7,000 DM and 27,000 DM. Two other coaches, Bernd Christochowitz and Klaus Klemenz, were given pecuniary penalties of 7,500 DM and 3,000 DM respectively. The court took note of the fact that, with the exception of Mattonet, all the accused made apologies; it is also significant that although they pleaded lenience on the basis that they were part of a centrally organized system, that fact served as no justification. The judge said they were part of a "System of state-ordered crime," but nevertheless could have chosen to act differently. Dr. Roesler, 50, showed obvious relief upon leaving the courtroom. "I'm very happy that this problem of ours has finally been dealt with," she told a flock of reporters. "Now we can get on with our lives and not be confronted with doping every day. I accept this verdict beause I think it is morally justified, and I want to thank the court because I think the procedure was very fair."

Dr. Roesler, who was responsible for direct care of the swimmers of TSC Berlin, told the court she received Oral-Turinabol pills from her superior, Dr. Suender, and then gave them to the coaches, who distributed them to the swimmers. She gave no thought to side effects she may have observed in the young women because the federation doctor, Dr. Lothar Kipke, told her the side effects were not serious and the swimmers would return to normal. "I functioned as a typical product of the GDR," she said, "which I deeply regret."

Dr. Roesler and Dr. Suender described the administration of "OT" as a state secret. "It was never discussed between colleagues. The subject was absolutley taboo," said Dr. Suender.

With the arrival at such a rapid verdict, the TSC Trial overtakes the Dynamo Trial as the real "pilot" procedure in Germany. With the testimonies of all five defendants validated by the court, the implications for the ever-running Dynamo trial and for future trials of those higher up the ladder-namely the medical and political masterminds behind the doping system-are clear. That the GDR doped its way to international sporting glory can no longer be disputed.

Rolf Glaeser, one of those accused in the Dynamo trial, attended both days of the TSC proceedings, head bowed, and sinking lower and lower in his seat. But even if what he heard shook his belief in an eventual aquittal, it did little to shake his resolve. He appeared at his own trial in between without uttering a word. The conspiracy of lies has been cracked beyond a doubt. But the Dynamo wall of silence remains solid.

FOUR YEAR BAN FOR SAMPLE MANIPULATION

Karin Helmstaedt

Ireland's controversial swimming star Michelle Smith-de Bruin is facing a humiliating end to her career after having been banned from all national and international competition for a period of four years. The triple Olympic gold medallist was found guilty of having manipulated a urine sample given to unannounced testers in her home in Kilkenny County on January 10, 1998. After an initial hearing last month failed to reach a decision on her case, the FINA Doping Panel released its decision on August 6. FINA rules treat manipulation of a test the same way as a positive test. It is the first such case in swimming.

Smith-de Bruin, 28, maintains that she is innocent and that any manipulation must have taken place after the sample was out of her sight. The IOC Accredited Laboratory in Barcelona that analyzed Smith-de Bruin's urine reported that the sample showed "unequivocal signs of adulteration" and an alcohol level that was "in no way compatible with human consumption." The analysis of the B-sample, performed on May 21, 1998, showed the same results.

The three-man Doping Panel, headed by German Judge Harm Beyer, found that the urine was indeed manipulated, but ruled out that it had been manipulated by the testers, by the laboratory, or during transport. The conclusion was that Smith-de Bruin manipulated the sample herself, constituting a doping offence according to FINA Rules DC 1.2.b and DC 3.1.b. "Why would one manipulate a sample? Only to cover something up," said Beyer.

In the weeks before the decision, the swimmer and her lawyer, Peter Lennon, had indicated that they would appeal any negative findings of the Panel at the Court of Arbitration for Sport in Lausanne. After the decision, Lennon went on the offensive; he called FINA's verdict "bizarre," saying that the Panel had failed to produce a single piece of evidence supporting the alleged manipulation. He then announced that he would lodge an official protest and seek compensation for damages to his client's reputation. Smith-de Bruin herself said she was "deeply hurt" by FINA's decision. She claimed FINA wanted to prevent her from competitng for Ireland again in the 2000 Olympic Games in Sydney.

The decision, labelled a "tragedy" by Smith-de Bruin's supporters in Ireland, was greeted as a landmark in international swimming circles. Smith-de Bruin's career has been dogged by suspicion ever since her unprecedented success at the 1996 Olympics. Since then, she has several times been unavailable for unannounced testers, and she and her husband/coach, former discus thrower Erik de Bruin from Holland, have done their best to thwart any efforts by the media to learn more about their coveted training methods.

In the meantime, The Irish Independent reported that Erik de Bruin has been dropped as an athletics commentator by the Dutch Public Broadcasting Corporation (NOS). Based on the drug test scandal surrounding his wife, the NOS decided that Erik de Bruin's "integrity was at stake" and that it would not be appropriate to include him in their coverage of the European Athletic Championships this month in Budapest. De Bruin was himself suspended for four years by the International Amateur Athletics Federation in 1993 for having tested positive for testosterone.

GOODWILL GAMES

SOMETHING COMPLETELY DIFFERENT

MADE-FOR-TV COMPETITION RESULTS IN FAST SWIMMING

Nick J. Thierry

Swimming has always been an individual sport. That is, until this year's Goodwill Games. A points system was devised to turn an individual sport into a true team sport, modeled on the NCAA college dual meet. In individual events, teams get five points for a first-place finish, three for second, and one for third. Winners of relay races pick up seven points. A total of 62 points wins the meet. Invited teams from Russia, China (women only), Germany, and a World Team composed of individuals from many different countries were to dual meet the U.S. in an evening-only competition with live television coverage on the Turner Superstation TBS over six consecutive days.

Women's Events

In the first night of competition, the women took centre stage as the United States, led by Jenny Thompson and six straight 1-2 finishes, dismantled China, 88-34. This came after South Africa's Penny Heyns and Holland's Inge de Bruijn helped the World Team top Germany, 64-58.

"I think the format is a very good thing because it's a new competition," Germany's Franziska Van Almsick said. "Swimming normally is a sport where everyone swims for themselves. Now the team is the most important thing."

Others do not like the format. Swimmers from China, the country often accused of using performance-enhancing drugs since an unprecedented run of records four years ago, looked lethargic in their first meet.

"No one really tried that hard. We were not prepared. Our goal was to test out our opponent," China's Qian Yan said. "We lacked the strength because we were not used to the food here."

The American women gained a 65-57 victory on the second women's session over the World Team with a relay triumph anchored by Thompson. But Thompson said the real hero was Cristina Teuscher, who won the 800 and 400 freestyles and swam an outstanding third leg on the final relay.

The dual-meet victory over the World Team put the Americans on the inside track for the team gold medal. The two teams each won seven of the 14 events, but the United States won the meet because it finished 2-3 in five of the seven events the World Team won. The American team, led by Cristina Teuscher and Jenny Thompson, won the team gold after defeating Germany 78-44, its third straight dual-meet win at the Goodwill Games.

"I didn't have any concrete goals, just to swim good times," Thompson said. "But I'm real happy that the team was undefeated. The dual-meet format made things more exciting."

A total prize of US $50,000 was up for grabs for the winning team. The money will come in handy for the four U.S. women swimmers who won it. Since only four of the 18 team members are out of college, those four get to share the loot. Jenny Thompson of Dover, New Hampshire, captain Lea Maurer of Crestwood, New York, Richelle Fox of Scotia, New York, and Ashley Tappin of New Orleans will take home $12,500 each for the team gold medal.

"I just bought a '96 Tahoe that I have $15,000 left to pay on, and this money will go straight to that," Tappin said. "As long as I have been swimming, it has never been money oriented. So for me to come away with all this money is unbelievable. I just thank my lucky stars."

Individual accomplishments are also rewarded. Team members can earn US $1,000 for the fastest time per event, and if a world record is broken the athlete wins $50,000.

For some, like de Bruijn, who set a Goodwill Games record in the 50-meter freestyle, the new format is a good thing.

"This is totally new to me," she said. "The fact that it's different makes it very exciting to me. I did a meet in France that had a similar format. This is a great idea. I'm used to swimming as an individual. I enjoy the team concept."

Penny Heyns also set Goodwill records in the 100 and 200 breaststroke. She agreed with her teammate, but knows that the new format might not appeal to all.

"This format is tough," she admitted. "I swam at the University of Nebraska for four years, so I've done it before. I haven't done it for two years, though. With this format, the focus is more on the team, which is different for me."

Heyns, a double Olympic champion, set the only world record of the competition, with 30.95 seconds on the way to winning the 100-metre breaststroke gold in 1:09.46. The previous world's best for 50 metres was 31.58, set by Silke Horner of East Germany in 1988. Goodwill officials, however, said Heyns did not qualify for the big prize because the 50-metre breaststroke was not a Games event, even though the sport's ruling body, FINA, recognizes the 50-metre record.

World record for Penny Heyns in 50 breaststroke

Marco Chiesa

World leader in 100 backstroke Germany's Stev Theloke with 54.43 Marco Chiesa

After learning she would not receive the world-record bonus, Heyns expressed bitter disappointment. Goodwill Games officials later decided she would be awarded $10,000, pending ratification of the result by FINA.

Men Events

The men's events were fast. Five winning events produced the fastest times for 1998, among them Curtis Myden's 2:00.38 in the 200 individual medley. However, the dual meet format so successful for the U.S. women's team did not produce the anticipated dominance by the American men. They lost all three dual meets.

The loss to Germany on the first day of the men's competition, 63 to 59, was painful. The United States led by three points going into the final race. But the relays are worth seven points for the winner and none for the loser, and the Germans' time of 3:21.48 — 1.25 seconds ahead of the Americans—decided the outcome. After the first leg, Aimo Heilmann had a body-length lead over Josh Davis, a triple relay gold medallist in the 1996 Olympics, and the other three U.S. swimmers couldn't catch up. U.S. men have never lost an Olympic 400 freestyle relay.

"We've always had great freestyle sprinters, but now it's a new generation, and we lost Gary Hall Jr. to drug circumstances," Ron Karnaugh said, referring to Hall's suspension for marijuana use.

But the American defeat at the hands of the World Team was downright embarrassing, with six 1-2 sweeps by the World team in 12 individual events. World Team 78, U.S. 43.

Russia dealt the Americans their third straight dual-meet loss, carried by four 1-2 sweeps and victories in both of the relays that the U.S. men have traditionally dominated.

One of the Russian sweeps came from Alexander Popov and teammate Roman Egorov in the 50-metre freestyle, a race won by Bill Pilczuk in the World Championships earlier this year. This time, Pilczuk was a badly beaten third.

"I think maybe there was too much pressure on Bill," Popov said.

"I got worse as the meet went on," Pilczuk admitted. "I'm tired. I was really aggravated I got third. I should have had second."

The United States countered the four Russian sweeps with five of their own. Losing both relays, and the resulting 14 points, to the Russians was pivotal.

"It's almost impossible to win one of these dual meets without winning a relay," U.S. coach Bill Wadley of Ohio State said. "That's 14 points right there. We knew we probably couldn't compete with them in the freestyle relay, so we went all out in the medley. We came up a little short." Russia 63, U.S. 59

Other Highlights

Fernando Scherer of Brazil, who lives and trains in Florida, became the fourth man in history to break 49 seconds in the 100 free, joining Americans Matt Biondi and Gary Hall Jr., and Russian Alexander Popov, the world record-holder at 48.21 seconds. Scherer was timed in 48.91, and Pieter van den Hoogenband of the Netherlands was second in 49.61.

"I knew I had swum a great race when I finished, but I wasn't sure how good my time would be," said Scherer, who was fifth in the Olympic 100 free two years ago. "I felt great until the last 5 metres, when my legs felt dead." The final indignity came in the 400 freestyle relay, as the World Team, anchored by Scherer, won in 3:22.42, 2.73 seconds ahead of the Americans.

"This is the fastest pool I've ever been in," Scherer said.

On the final day of multi-event Games, Scherer clocked 22.18 seconds, equaling the fourth fastest time ever for the men's 50 metres freestyle.

"I missed the wall by just a little," he said. "Just a quicker touch and I would have been a little faster."

Josh Davis: "Americans come in to win every race, every day," said Josh Davis of San Antonio, one of the few U.S. winners. "Wednesday was just a bad day in the office. It was an off day. We pride ourselves on having one of the strongest swimming programs...The World Team is a lot stronger than the rest of the competition. They have an advantage because they have some of the best in the world mixed on one team."

Alexander Popov: The world's fastest swimmer in the 1990s said the media created a rivalry between him and U.S. sprinter Gary Hall Jr. in the 1996 Olympics that didn't really exist.

"It made me mad. I am kind of sick of it," Popov said.

Popov also took the opportunity to take a shot at the U.S. men's team in the Goodwill Games.

"I was watching the news last night, and they said the U.S. team is weak because it doesn't have Gary Hall," Popov said. "Well, I saw Gary Hall at Perth (at the World Championships in January), and he wasn't that good."

Popov's comments about Hall came as the U.S. men's team was reeling from a close dual-meet defeat to Germany.

"It doesn't bother me that Gary is not here," Popov said. "He should be disappointed that he is not here."

Popov shrugged off his World Championships loss in the 50 to Pilczuk that broke a seven-year winning streak in that event.

"The 100 is my favourite, and he didn't beat my winning streak there," Popov said. "In the 50, you can't make any mistakes, or you lose... I think Bill will find out that the Olympics are much more serious than the world championships," But he agreed with Pilczuk that the Goodwill Games are more for fun.

"There's no pressure here that you've got to win," Popov said. "People just thank you for coming."

So what went wrong for the U.S. men?

The diagnosis, according to Ron Karnaugh, M.D.: We just don't work hard enough anymore. Karnaugh, a medical doctor and a swimmer on national teams since 1986, said that's why a rare U.S. loss in the 400 freestyle relay gave the Americans a dual-meet loss against Germany at the Goodwill Games Wednesday.

"There's no shortcut to success in swimming, and some of our younger kids don't work as hard as they should," said Karnaugh, 32, who won the 200 individual medley just before the freestyle-relay defeat that allowed Germany to win 63-59. "They believe they can get by just on talent," Karnaugh added. "But you get out of it what you put in it."

Curtis Myden: When the World Team trounced the U.S., Curtis Myden (the only Canadian to take part) beat Ron Karnaugh in the 200 I.M. Myden's winning time of 2:00.38 was his lifetime best, and a Goodwill, Commonwealth, and Canadian record. Careful pacing made the difference. "I was only in fourth at the 100 but really working the second half made a big difference. Curtis liked the evening only format, without having to swim prelims.

"I could focus completely on my event."

In the first dual meet against Russia, Myden won with an easy 2:04.61 over flyer Steve Parry, 2:07.85, and Alexander Tkachev, 2:17.48, who held back as there were only three swimmers in the race.

On the final dual meet against the Germans, Myden won with 2:02.06 to Jirka Letzin's 2:03.20 and German Chris-Carol Bremer's 2:05.71, and Steve Parry was fourth in 2:09.13.
